Dan Patrick Supported by Texas Automobile Dealers Association

"...a forceful champion for the retail automobile industry in Texas."

HOUSTON, TX – Lt. Governor Dan Patrick announced today that he has the support of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association Political Action Committee (TADA PAC). In making the announcement, Rob Braziel, TADA's CEO of Legislative Affairs, said:

"The political action committee of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association (TADA) strongly supports Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick. During his time as both a Texas Senator and the Lieutenant Governor, Dan Patrick has been a forceful champion for the retail automobile industry in Texas. He has shown over and over again that he values the franchised dealer system and the contribution Texas franchised dealers bring to the Texas economy and Texas communities."

TADA represents nearly 1,400 franchised motor vehicle dealerships in 290 cities and towns throughout Texas, and these dealerships employ over 100,000 Texans.
